- A small decrease in the number of students who are failing was made from quarter 1 to quarter 2. However, more progress needs to be made.
 - Some of the strategies we are implementing to address the slow progress: individual and small group support during office hours, teacher-parent conferences
 - Parent question about the support that is available for students who are struggling. Information was provided about office hours on Mondays and the rest of the week. Communication with teachers to get more information about more supports.
 - NWEA Winter Data Information presented about NWEA scores for this quarter.
 - Math continues to be more of a challenge for our students. The vast majority of our students are currently level 1 and level 2, standard not met
